

Gabi Wolkinson served in the Ministry of Economy in various high positions including deputy director of the investment center. He has an MBA in financing from Hebrew University and serves as a director in several companies. Today, Gabi is CEO of Microdel, a boutique investment firm that turns ideas into products. One of those ideas was an indoor land based fish farm in the Israeli Negev Desert. Today, Gabi leads sea Dream Fisheries, Microdel's aquaculture branch which is in the midst of planning fisheries in Europe the US and South America.