

Dr. Eshel is a soil scientist at the Soil Erosion Research Station, Ministry of Agriculture & Rural Development, Israel. His main research interests includes soil erosion, runoff generation, agronomic and environmental aspects of soil conservation, cover crops, roots and soil structure, soil health, soil ecosystem services, soil spectroscopy.