

Anat Lowengart-Aycicegi

Short bio: Anat has been working with the Extension Service in The Israeli Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development since 1981.

She possesses a B.Sc. (Horticulture) and M.Sc. (Soil and Water) in Agriculture from the Faculty of Agriculture, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

As an Extension advisor, her specialization and work has been dealing with irrigation, plant nutrition, and soil and water (fresh, recycled) aspects.

During 1991/2 she attended the University of California, Davis, as a Humphrey Fellow.

Since 2012 she is serving as the head of the Agroecology and Field Crops Division in the Extension Service.